

Wings Over Whiteman – Grandparents’ Trip

June 2019 (Saturday trip - date to be announced)

The Grandparents’ Trip in 2019 takes you to the “Wings Over Whiteman” air show. This event is held every other year at Whiteman Air Force Base and attracts tens of thousands of people from across America. As of the date of this newsletter, the exact date of the event and attractions has not been announced. In past years attractions included the B-2 stealth bomber, F-16 fighters, an A-10 Warthog, a P-51D fighter and a MiG-17F flying above the crowds. In addition, the Army Golden Knights skydiving team performed, along with the Shetterly Squadron.

There will be food vendors at the event where lunch can be purchased, or you can visit one of the on-base restaurants. Bring your folding chair for the event and we’ll store it in the compartment underneath the bus for transport. After enjoying the day at the air show, we’ll stop for ice cream on the way home. Join us, with or without your grandchildren, and experience this extraordinary event! This trip will be limited to one motor coach.

Trip cost: $45 (sign up by May 15)
